

PAY DIRT STRUCK IN FUND PROBE PROCEEDINGS; REPUBLICAN WITNESS SUSTAINS COX'S CHARGES

CLEVELAND'S QUOTA $400,000.00 DECLARES PROMINENT WITNESS WHO GIVES NAMES AND FIGURES

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Governor Cox's "quota" figures on the amount the Republicans sought to raise in Cleveland, Ohio were substantiated and an admission made that the national committee sought to raise more than $200,000 for the entire state of Ohio at $400,000 for the national committee and $200,000 for state purposes.

Dudley S. Blossom, one of the leaders in the Cleveland fund raising drive, testified the Cuyahoga county quota was fixed at $400,000 although the testimony of Fred W. Upham, Republican national treasurer, fixed the goal for the entire state of Ohio at $400,000 for the national committee and $200,000 for state purposes.

C. W. McClure, of Atlanta, Ga., said Mr. Upham sent C. F. Taylor, a paid field worker, to him last month with a letter stating that Mr. Taylor was delegated to raise more money in that state. Mr. McClure quoted Dr. J. C. Stockbridge of Atlanta who assisted him in saying Mr. Taylor had told Dr. Stockbridge that he wanted to raise $25,000 in Atlanta alone.

Mr. Blossom said they actually raised $74,000 in Cuyahoga county and Mr. McClure said his committee obtained pledges of about $11,000 in the state of Georgia, of which $6,015.75 had been paid.

Senator Reed called for other Ohio witnesses when Mr. Blossom was excused. W. A. Woodford, it was learned, was detained in Cleveland by business; Fred Miller, of Columbus, Republican state chairman, was reported as sick, and it developed that Frank A. Heller, whom E. H. Moore yesterday named as Cleveland financial manager for the Republicans could not be found. Fred Upham, of the Republican national committee said the correct name was "Heller" and a new subpoena was ordered.

Mr. Moore suggested that the committee might save time by summoning John Kelly, of Columbus; A. A. Protzman and Edmund Silverman, who, he said, had charge of Ohio and the Cleveland and Youngstown districts of the Republican fund campaign. This brought a further suggestion from Senator Edge that a subpoena be issued for James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany and recently appointed chairman of the Democratic campaign fund committee.

The New Jersey member of the committee also said he had read in a morning paper an item to the effect that letters had been found in the records of the federal reserve board showing a "Democratic plot" to influence that board and through it the banking system of the country on behalf of the Cox candidacy. He asked that officers of the board be called to testify before the committee.

Before Mr. Moore was called, several minor witnesses were summoned. The first was H. G. Garrett, of Winchester, Ky., chairman of that state's Republican ways and means committee.

He said that Henry Owen, of the staff of Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the national Republican committee, asked him to take the post and raise $25,000 for the national committee, promising that a competent assistant would be sent to direct the work and that all the funds would be turned back to the state committee in Kentucky.

Mr. Garrett said that E. G. Fitzgerald, of Dayton, Ohio, was sent to aid him and that the fund was practically all raised by June first, since which date he had made no effort to get additional subscriptions.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—First evidence supporting Governor Cox's charge that large quotas were assigned to the principal cities by the Republican campaign fund committee was introduced in the senate committee investigation today when Dudley S. Blossom, who helped raise Cleveland's quota, testified Governor Cox's figures $400,000 for

QUAKE—HUNDREDS DEAD

ROME, September 8.—Several hundred persons lost their lives in the earthquake at Fivizzano, and many more were injured, according to a dispatch to the Tribuna, from Massa.

FIVIZZANO, Italy, September 8.—King Victor Emmanuel, with his suite, who came to this city immediately after he received news of the earthquake in this vicinity, went this morning to visit districts in Tuscany, which were affected by the shock.

Fuller Bunk Says:

ROME, Sept. 8.—Scores of lives are believed to have been lost in the district north of Florence, which was severely shaken by an earthquake yesterday morning. As reports from the stricken region came in over falling telegraph and telephone lines, the extent of the disaster seems to be growing and there is a possibility the damage done may be much more serious than was at first believed. The territory violently disturbed seems to be located south of Florence at the southern end, and Malena at the northern end. It extends along the Apennine coast and runs over the Apennines eastward for upwards of 100 miles. In this district there are many populous towns, and no buildings have as yet been received from many of them. There is every indication that the shock was a severe one, and reports from cities in the earthquake zone show that buildings crumbled beneath the strain of the convulsion of the earth.

Cloud Shadows on the Moor

Cloud shadows sweep over the moor with wings that are gray or nearly black. Blue or violet-purple, according to the seasons and quality of air and sunshine. On stormy days the case is altered and out of the gloom there break beams to fly over the darkness of earth. Like golden birds. The shadow and shaft of light both serve to bring out detail in the wilderness; and while today passages of shade reveal the interment of health and cheer, or fling up the outline of a hill among others lost in light. Tomorrow a sun-flash is apter to do these things and paint pictures red in clouds. From "A Shadowy Past," by Edna Philipps.

The Itching Torture of Skin Diseases

No Relief In Sight Until the Cause Is Removed

Just because the itching and discomfort becomes so intense, the average person afflicted with skin diseases is led away from the proper rational treatment in their anxiety for some measure of relief from its torture.

More temporary relief from the flaming skin irritation should not deter you from seeking its cause and removing it.

In other words, you should not be content to have only temporary relief from the terrifying itching and burning of fiery skin diseases. And that is all you can possibly get from the use of lotions, ointments, lotions and the local remedies applied to the surface of the skin.

Temporary relief will do you little good if you are a victim of itching or other terrifying skin diseases. Soon all the itching and irritation will break out afresh with renewed fury, and you should be convinced that no amount of local treatment can possibly rid you of your trouble. Such remedies will doubtless afford some measure of temporary relief, but why should you be afflicted with makeshift remedies that can make no progress toward ridding you of your affliction?

It will not be so difficult to rid yourself of skin diseases if you will but realize that these troubles originate in the blood, and if you expect a real substantial relief you must treat them through the blood. Millions of tiny disease germs find lodgment in the blood, where they multiply rapidly and attack some part of the surface of the skin where there can be no resistance.

Realize, then, that you can know no real and genuine relief until these germs are eradicated from your blood. S. S. S. has given great satisfaction in the treatment of skin diseases, because it is such a thorough blood purifier. It cleanses the blood of all accumulations and thus frees it of the germs that attack the skin. Why not use this intelligent method of treatment? Begin today and take S. S. S. and discard all local treatment which can give nothing but temporary relief. S. S. S. is sold by all druggists.

Remove the germs from your blood and you will be rid of the cause of your skin troubles.

S. S. S. has been on the market for more than fifty years, and every year adds to its popularity. If you want expert advice without cost, write all about your case, 254 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

100 RUSSIAN REFUGEE BOYS ESCAPE FROM FT. WADSWORTH

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Fifty of the 100 Russian refugee boys, who escaped yesterday from Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, were still at large early today. Red Cross officials, under whose care the children are being returned to their homes in Russia—police and civilians were making a search of the island for the fugitives.

The escape was believed by the police to have been aided by Bolshevik sympathizers, who, since the retention of the children here, are alleged to have spread propaganda among them against their being taken to Russia through France. Red Cross officials, however, believe that the escape was simply a boyish desire to see the sights of New York.

Zealous Staten Island citizens, wishing to aid in the capture of the boys, related scores of native children, not knowing that the refugees were unable to speak English.

The native children were held in some cases for many hours, until officials of the refugee reservation caused their release.

Board Will Map Out New Voting Precincts

A meeting of the Deputy State Supervisors of Election has been called for Wednesday evening for the purpose of taking definite action on the question of establishing a number of new voting precincts made absolutely necessary to take care of the heavy vote expected to be cast at the November election now that it has been definitely assured that women will have the right to vote at this election. The meeting will be held at the election rooms in the Kricker building and is scheduled to convene at seven o'clock.

Crop Condition

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 8.—Forecasts of production this year of the country's principal crops estimated from their condition September 1, or at time of harvest, were announced today by the department of agriculture as follows:

Spring wheat, 237,000,000 bushels, with condition 64.1 percent of a normal. All wheat 770,000,000 bushels, condition 74.1. Corn, 3,131,000,000, condition 83.4.

Corn prospects improved during August and promised on September 1, a crop of 3,131,000,000 bushels, the department of agriculture announced today. This was 125,000,000 bushels more than indicated on August 1, six million bushels above the largest previous crop of record in 1912, more than 200,000,000 above last year and almost 400,000,000 above the five years' average.

The indicated yield per acre of 30.2 bushels has been exceeded, but twice and then only by a fraction of a bushel during the past fifty years.

TWO ROUTES TO IRONTON

Many auto parties who contemplate trips to the Iron Age Show have been busy inquiring as to which is the best route to reach the up river city, the Ohio river not being in the best of shape.

Two routes are suggested. One is to cross the river at Fullerton and use the Kentucky road to Russell and then cross the river to Ironton.

The other is to use the Ohio river road to Haverhill, then to Ohio Furnace, through Dempsey Crossing and then onto the main road near Hanging Rock.

Women Can Chew, By Gosh

KANSAS CITY, MO., Sept. 8.—A woman asked W. H. Scott, a policeman, how to reach an address last night. Scott told her.

"Thanks," said the woman, and reaching into a pocket of her coat took out a plug of tobacco and bit off a chew. Scott arrested her on a charge of disturbing the peace.

In municipal court today Judge John M. Kennedy dismissed the case.

"If women may vote, why shouldn't they chew?" inquired the judge.

The machine was badly damaged. According to Mr. Herman, he pulled over to the side of the road to allow another machine to pass, and did not notice the ditch at the side of the road.

In the machine were his family, none of whom was injured.

Air Mail Service To San Francisco

MINEOLA, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Transcontinental air mail service to San Francisco was officially inaugurated today when H. G. Page, piloting an airplane specially equipped to carry 400 pounds of mail, started his westward flight at 6:30 o'clock. He carried in his cargo of mail, letters to the mayors of six cities along the route.

The airplane was scheduled to make its first stop at Cleveland. Other stations chosen were Chicago, Omaha, Neb.; Cheyenne, Wyo.; Salt Lake City; Reno, Nev.; and finally, San Francisco.

The trip is expected to be completed in three days, arriving at San Francisco 12 hours ahead of the time regularly required for mail trains.

The flight mapped out is 2,651 miles in length. The establishment of the service places at the disposal of the United States military forces what is probably the greatest system of regularly maintained landing fields and facilities in the world, according to the postoffice department.

Senator Lenroot Wins Race In Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 8.—Senator Lenroot had a lead of $499 over his nearest opponent for re-election, James Thompson of La Crosse, according to returns tabulated early today by the Milwaukee Sentinel, from 620 out of 2379 precincts.

The vote stood:

Lenroot 42,516; Thompson 31,116, with A. C. McHenry of Oshkosh, far behind them.

Senator Lenroot had a lead of 5,219 over Thompson in the first 449 precincts outside of Milwaukee to report, while his lead was 3,051 in the first 171 precincts in Milwaukee county.

The race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination apparently had narrowed down to three of the six candidates when 250 of the 2379 had been heard from. With these returns compiled, Roy D. Wilcox was leading with 17,299; John J. Blaine, of Escanaba, was second with 12,531, while Gilbert H. Seaman, of Milwaukee was third with 10,615.

The lengthy ballot and the fact that a large number of women cast their votes for the first time, accounted for the slowness of the returns.

INVENTIVE GENIUS MAKES CALOMEL DELIGHTFUL

Calomel, the Most Valuable of Drugs, Now Purified From Its Nausea and Danger—"Caklets" the New Name.

The medicinal virtues of calomel are in no way connected with its nauseating and dangerous qualities, as is proved by the fact that the new calomel tablet, called Caklets, is free from objectionable effects yet retains all of the free-lancing and system-purifying qualities of the old-style calomel. For Milwaukee, the new de-natured calomel tablet is a completely perfect laxative.

To insure public confidence in this new discovery the manufacturers have advertised Caklets everywhere to refund the entire cost of the medicine to any party who returns a Caklets, 5c. only in original package sealed, First thirty-five cents. One tablet at bedtime, with a swallow of water. No taste, no nausea, no griping, no salts. You wake up in the morning with a clean bow, feeling fine, and a hearty appetite for breakfast. Harding Talks To Farmers associated an improvement in the social life of the farm, and such an amelioration of economic laws as would insure a fair balance between our urban and rural industries." He praised the part played by the farmers during the war, declaring that "it never will be understood or fully appreciated by our people."

The candidate described his conception of the future of American farming as contemplating "a system of agriculture, which will enable us to feed our people abundantly, with some to spare for export in years of plenty, and at prices which will insure to the farmer and his family both financial rewards and educational, social and religious living conditions fairly comparable to those offered by cities."

Price control might be necessary and wise in time of national crisis, the senator said, but prices in the long run must rest rather on natural laws than on arbitrary enactments.

"Government drives against food prices such as we have experienced during the past two years, are equally vain and useless," he continued. "The ostensible purpose of such drives is to reduce the price the consumer pays for food. The actual result is usually to depress for a time the price the farmer receives for his grains and live stock, but with no appreciable reduction in the price the consumer pays. Such drives simply give the speculator and the profiteer additional opportunities to add to their exactions."

The crux of the whole agricultural problem, declared the nominee, is the question whether the nation is to follow a short-sighted policy of exploitation or adopt a program to insure continued prosperity under a self-sustaining system.

"The time has come," said he, "when as a nation we must determine on a definite agricultural policy. We must decide whether we shall undertake to make the United States a self-sustaining nation or whether we shall continue to exploit our agricultural resources for the benefit of our industrial and commercial life and leave to posterity the task of finding food enough, by strong-arm methods if necessary, to support the coming hundreds of millions."

"I believe in the self-sustaining, independent, self-reliant nation, agriculturally, industrially and politically."

"The farmer requires no special favors at the hands of the government. All he needs is a fair chance and such just consideration for agriculture, as we ought to give to a basic industry. Farming is not an auxiliary. It is the main plant, and geared with it inseparably is every wheel of transportation and industry."

and all workers trying to reach the goal of $400,000.

Senator Reed then took the witness through Form 101, the campaign plan which Republican witnesses have said was never issued, and which Mr. Blossom said he had never seen. At almost every step in organization described by the plan, Mr. Blossom nodded or expressed assent. He said an executive committee was formed as described in the plan and remembered of its doings or so members, Michael Gallagher, coal operator, as chairman, and John Sherwin and J. H. Nutt, bankers, and C. A. Otis, broker, as members.

"They were among the most influential and powerful business and professional men in your city as described by this plan for the executive committee," said Senator Reed.

Mr. Blossom said that W. A. Woodford was chairman of the ways and means committee for Cleveland and agreed with Senator Reed that he was described by the language of the form which recommended a "big visioned financial man" for the post. The "prospect list of 3,000 names" which form 101 recommended was also listed

Noted Evangelist Gratefully Gives Endorsement To Nerv-Worth

Rev. J. H. Pennell Gave The Following Forceful Statement Some Time Ago. And It Offers The Most Convincing Proof Of This Medicine's Merit.

"I feel that I should speak a word of commendation for your good nerve remedy, Nerv-Worth," said Rev. Pennell, Evangelist who at the time was residing at 1106 Mac St., Zanesville, O. "My work as an Evangelist which keeps me constantly employed, speaking nearly every week and 3 or 4 times on Sunday, is pretty trying on the nerves, and I have suffered from nervous prostration and nervous rheumatism. Some time ago while suffering terribly from a nervous break down, my wife brought me a bottle of Nerv-Worth, and I am glad to say that in one bottle I have found great relief. I mentioned this that you may feel satisfied recommending the medicine to others who may have overstrained the nerves by constant mental work."

The above statement is indeed a forceful one. Rev. Mr. Pennell is but one of the many of the clergy who have given their endorsement to this famous preparation and endorsement from the ministry prove conclusively that Nerv-Worth is an honest medicine of real merit. Otherwise, such endorsement would not endorse it. If you suffer from nervous troubles or stomach troubles or a general run down condition, give Nerv-Worth a trial, and if your first bottle is not satisfactory, your money will be refunded. At one stage of the examination the Missouri senator remarked: "So it was after a good luncheon, an inspiring speech by Congressman Fees with everybody feeling good that you started out and made the raid."

"The witness smiled but Senator Kenyon brought out that he preferred 'started the campaign' as a concluding phrase to Senator Reed's suggestion. "I do not think that the witness should be led into the position of using language with which he does not agree," said Chairman Kenyon.

"The witness and I are getting along fine," rejoined Senator Reed and laughter. "If you leave me alone I'll be good natured all day."

Senator Reed and Chairman Kenyon clashed again when the Missouri senator asked Mr. Blossom who "suggested this plan you followed, which absolutely in almost every respect with this document I have just read?"

Senator Kenyon cautioned the witness not to answer and objected to Senator Reed's asking Mr. Blossom about a document which he had already testified he had never seen.

Senator Kenyon finally withdrew his objections and Mr. Blossom stated that either Mr. Protzman or Mr. Woodford had outlined the plan to him.

CHICAGO, September 8.—The senate committee investigating presidential campaign expenditures, resumed its hearing today with E. H. Moore, Youngstown, personal representative of Governor Cox, again on the stand. Mr. Moore was the principal witness at yesterday's session.

The first session after nearly a week's adjournment of the committee, was marked by frequent clashes between witnesses and members of the committee as well as between the committee members themselves. Mr. Moore's testimony consisted largely of information he said he obtained from telegrams received from Democratic state chairmen in western states. These reports, he said, were intended merely as avenues of inquiry, and that "paid employees of the Republican national committee ought to be able to furnish the committee with facts."

Mr. Moore said the facts were "to get those men on the stand here, and if they lie prosecute them," Senator Kenyon, chairman of the committee, remarked that "you must expect to keep the attorney general busy."

Senatorial traditions as to courtesy were strained to the breaking point on several occasions as Republican and Democratic members wrangled over the value of the evidence and at one stage, just before adjournment yesterday, Mr. Moore started to leave the stand, exclaiming that Senator Spencer, Republican of Missouri, had intimidated him by questioning the authenticity of a circular letter which he had offered as furnishing a lead to further information.

"No man, even though he be a United States senator, can make such a charge as that against me," said Mr. Moore. Senator Spencer's disclaimer of such a charge brought his Democratic colleague, Senator Reed, to his feet with the protest against "bully ragging." He said the entire incident was "disgraceful," and announced that he proposed to see that the witness was treated like a gentleman.

The exchange was the climax to several similar occurrences and not even Chairman Kenyon's placid that he "could not keep peace in Missouri" served to settle the atmosphere.

"I don't want peace, I am preparing for war," announced Senator Reed. Considerable of Mr. Moore's late testimony consisted of information gleaned from telegrams received from Democratic state chairmen in western states. He told Senator Kenyon he had sent for some of this information and that other parts of it had been volunteered.

"Don't you expect to give us other leads besides telegrams from Democratic state chairmen?" asked Senator Kenyon.

Mr. Moore said the messages were forwarded merely to suggest avenues of inquiry and he said the "paid employees of the Republican national committee" ought to be able to furnish the committee with the facts.

"The object is to get those men on the stand here, and if they lie, prosecute them," declared Mr. Moore.

"You must expect to keep the attorney general busy," suggested Senator Kenyon. "Of course, if perjury is committed before this committee the guilty should be punished."

Senator Kenyon continued that in newspaper interviews Mr. Moore had criticized the work of the committee and added:

"Governor Cox wired Senator Reed that he would produce the evidence and leads to support his charges. But through you he sends none of this evidence and you start a line of evidence which it would take us a year to run down."

"Senator," replied Mr. Moore, "Governor Cox had the official bulletin of the Republican committee showing that certain quotas existed, and that widespread plans were being carried out to collect them. Yet, the Republican witnesses get on the stand here and tell us those bulletins were only 'bull.' Then he had a copy of what he had every reason to believe was a true quota list. The day before the list was published the Republicans said there were only four copies of it in existence. Now they testify that the list never existed. It is the same way with 'form 101' and we believe we have got to get this evidence if the committee really wants it."

Proclamation On Conservation Of Natural Gas

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 8.—In an official proclamation issued today from Governor Cox's office, Ohio schools are requested to give special attention to the conservation of natural gas.

Such action was asked of the governor, at a meeting here recently of officials of gas companies, state officers and others interested in the alleged wasting supply of natural gas.

The governor's proclamation requested that teachers acquaint themselves with the various methods of conserving gas. "I feel sure that great economies can be effected if proper publicity were given to the seriousness of the situation," the proclamation declares.

Testifies In Own Behalf

DEFIANCE, O., Sept. 8.—Joshua Botkin, on trial here for the murder of three-year-old Arthur Gerald Bullock, son of his housekeeper, took the stand today, and in tears, denied that he intended to kill the baby when he whipped it "for disobedience."

He denied that he used a heavy harness tug, but admitted he beat the child before beating it. It is charged he immersed the Bullock child's head in water to stifle its cries.

The state has rested its case. Mrs. Ida Bullock, the housekeeper, and the mother of the dead child, may not be called to the stand, counsel said today.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE

may eventually give women rights to which they are entitled but good health, which is the prerequisite of every American woman, must be hers before she can fully enjoy the privileges which woman's suffrage will bring. Women who suffer from those dreadful pains, backache, headaches, irritability, nervousness and depression, symptoms of organic trouble, should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, to restore them to a normal, healthy condition as it has thousands of other American women.

FOR BURNING ECZEMA

Apply Zemo the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid—Easy to Use—Does Not Stain

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From any druggist for 35c or $1.00 for large size, get a bottle of Zemo. When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive antiseptic liquid. If it is as helpful, nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

In skin troubles, ordinary soaps are irritating and liable to aggravate the condition. Use Zemo soap. It is antiseptic, soothing and hastens the process of healing.

Clark, state organizer of the Junior Order United American Mechanics. Both addresses were interesting and well enjoyed by the crowd.

The Martin Concert Band furnished the music all day.

HEARD SHOTS FIRED

Residents living in the vicinity of Jackson avenue and Brown streets, last night, at about 10:00 o'clock, heard two shots fired, and a man screaming, according to Miss Victoria Larue, maid in the W. W. Anderson home on Brown street.

Several other neighbors heard the shots and scream, although a search revealed no one in the vicinity. A passerby said he heard a scuffle, as if two men fighting and the dull thud of a black-jack coming down, and thinking it was a hold-up, took to his heels and ran.

Police say they have no report of the alleged hold-up, or any other kind of trouble on Brown street.

Mr. Nageleisen Under Knife

Henry Nageleisen, veteran cigar manufacturer, for many years a citizen of Portsmouth, suffered an acute attack of appendicitis at his Akron home, Tuesday, and was rushed to Hempstead hospital, where he underwent an operation last night.

Lawson was hitting it up at a fast clip on Seventeenth street when he was halted by the officer, it is claimed, and Ferguson was making 35 miles an hour it is alleged, when he was stopped on Kinney's Lane and advised that Judge Small wished to see him.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, September 8.—The hesitant tone of the stock market at the opening of today's session evidently expressed further division of sentiment among traders. Yesterday's late advance in the rate for call loans, probably served to check bullish operations. Excepting Crucible Steel which rose 1-3-4 points, gains and losses among leading shares, especially oil, motors, steels and rails, were limited to fractions. Foreign exchange was again unsettled, remittances to London falling below yesterday's minimum quotations.

Shorts were encouraged by lack of buying orders in the first hour and excited pressure against the cheaper rails, later extending their selling movement to oil and some independent steels. Heavily among transportation shares ranged from 1/2 to 2 points, with as much for most other popular issues. Oil fell back on reports of further differences between American interests and the Mexican government, Mexican petroleum more than forfeiting its early gain. Call money was again in free supply at 7 percent but foreign exchange made little recovery from preliminary prices.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Fresh strength developed in the wheat market today chiefly as a result of free buying for the seaboard.

Opening prices, which ranged from 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 higher, with December 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 and March 2 1/2, were followed by slight reaction and then by a new uptick, higher than before.

Prices closed firm, 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 net higher, with December 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 and March 2 1/2 to 2 3/4.

The close was nervous, 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 net higher, with December 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 and March 2 1/2 to 2 3/4.

Smallness of receipts together with unfavorable weather had a bullish influence on corn. After opening unchanged to 1/2 higher, including December at 1 1/2 to 1 1/4, the market moved to a moderate sag but then again hardened.

Oats were firm with corn, tending unchanged to 1/2 higher, December 6 1/2 to 6 3/4, and later scoring gains all around.

Weakness in the hog market carried provisions lower. Lard especially was affected.

SAVE THE EAGLE

ONLY prompt federal action will save the American eagle from extermination by bounty hunters.

More than eight thousand eagles have been slaughtered along the coastal region and river valleys of Alaska since the Alaskan bounty law went into operation on April 30, 1917. The law provides for the payment of 50 cents for each bald or "American" eagle killed.

In order to swell their gains, it is declared, bounty hunters are no longer limiting themselves to Alaskan territory but are reaching out into the British province adjoining Alaska in search of the rapidly disappearing eagle. It is even possible that by this time more than one-half—perhaps more than three-fourths—of the entire species has been sacrificed and that within the next year or so there will be very few American eagles remaining alive with the exception of the scattered few to be seen, caged for life like menageries, in the zoological parks.

The bald eagle never has been an abundant species. Estimates of its numbers are said to have been greatly exaggerated. Up to the year 1917 the only territory where the bald eagle thrived was along the coastal region and large river valleys of Alaska. Here the American eagle built its nest and multiplied exceedingly for a bird of its size. Advocates of the Alaskan bounty law declared that the American eagle was destructive and that its numbers must be kept down. The war of extermination followed and has been kept up ever since.

The general indifference to the fate of the great bird of splendid tradition is due, beyond doubt, to the common lack of information regarding its threatened extinction. The crusade for the bird's protection should enlist the enthusiasm and sincere effort of bird lovers and bird students throughout the country, of our scientific and patriotic societies and of the public press. It is only by the prompt passage of a federal law protecting the American eagle that our national bird can be saved from total extinction.

Nothing is so bad, but what it can be worse. Experts say the telephone service in foreign countries is worse than that in this land, which doesn't know when it is well off. And we read that just after we had spent one full half hour trying to get a call through to the country. And by the same token they say profanity is not justified under any circumstances.

We can't see that we need rain just because we have had plenty of it.

Cincinnati gets one million bushels of coal this week by river. That is a sight better than getting none at all by rail.

It is probably easier for a man to put his watch in "soak" than do the same for himself.

If porch swings rest mother and help daughter to get married they are entirely justified in being.

No matter how tight a man may be with his money, he knows some others who are stinger than himself.

If the ouija board had any of the virtues claimed for it, man who bet on elections would discover them.

It would be a pretty good sort of world, after all, if it were not for folks who make all the trouble.

It makes a pedestrian angry when an automobile driver "honks", and it makes him angry when he doesn't.

After a man's prejudice has been well fed up he likes to let it be known that he is open-minded on a matter.

What has become of the old-fashioned farmer who used to have his city relatives out for a week in their turn?

New-York - Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 5—

She came from the shadows.

Gladly and haggard.

Her claw-like fingers.

Clutching with dread.

Then she looked about.

And joined the human Niagara

From sixty theatres.

And in the splash of light.

Her face was serene.

Her hair disheveled.

And her shoulders stooped.

She walked back and forth.

Forth and back and fast.

Scanning a sea of faces.

Faces that were flushed.

Happy and buoyant.

And she was ready always.

To bestow the tragic smile.

But Sultan and satrap.

Prince and pauper.

Turned away with shudders.

And women whose throats.

Blazed with jewelled stars.

Like the Milky Way.

Drew their skirts away.

With instinctive disgust.

As she lurched by.

And she passed one man.

Who gave her a quick glance.

Then dashed a silver badge.

And she cringed like the dog.

In fear of the lash.

And darted across the way.

And was gone.

And as I walked home.

Content with the world.

I wondered why it was.

That in that vast throng.

White of a hundred races.

Housewife of a thousand tribes.

There was not one.

Including myself.

Who held out a hand.

Or gave a word of hope.

To this bit of driftwood.

Tossed up by mad currents.

Grey which perhaps.

She had no control.

And yet any one of us.

Might have been as she.

And what the world needs.

Is less convention.

And more humanity.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

CECIL REVEALS HIS PLANS FOR THE FUTURE.

Cecil and I had the very best sort of a time all evening. We got on famously, and I guess we both had been feeling dead lonely or something and had met at the psychological moment. Anyhow, we just laughed and enjoyed every moment of the time together. I declare I never found out before how nice he is. Seems funny, too, for he lived with us for quite a while, and I saw him three times a day at least—at meal times. But of course I was always busy in New York, and that's why, I suppose.

After a good dinner at our friend's little restaurant, we went to see "The Sheik" which is playing at the Gaiety theatre. We enjoyed every minute of that, too. The music was delightful and we were happy, so I took it all in all I'm glad that I ran into my dark-eyed cousin here in London. There can't be a bit of harm in seeing him, after all, for he's evidently forgotten that he ever lost his head about yours truly!

After the theatre we walked home and sat down in one of the parks to enjoy the moonlight for a few moments, and again my cousin, never by word, look or deed, behaved in any other way than he should. Surely he has changed mightily. Once, just once, I caught his dark eyes contemplating me, and I turned away quickly lest he think that I was encouraging him to—well, to remember.

He told me some of his plans for the future, and they are really interesting. When he leaves Paris he will sail for America, stop off a few days in New York to say hello to my dear old dad, and then his helio for the land of the sunsets for his. Yes, Cecil has decided to go out to California and try his luck. Says he wants to see and maybe settle in the Santa Clara Valley—where all the luscious fruit comes from. He has a fruit ranch and just back in the sunlight and raise peaches and things. Back to nature for him. Says it agrees with him the best, and that a human being gets most out of such a life. The old bewilder and bristle only now. Now he's got some bean to think this all out so well? And he on the verge of ruin and self-destruction only yesterday.

I squeezed his hand in approval, I did, when he had finished outlining his future, and he caught mine and raised it to his lips. But that was quite all right, and he told me that my approval meant a lot to him. I told him that I quite envied him going out to live in California, and his eyes sparkled as I described how, too, had always longed to go there, and just back in the sunlight, and paint wonderful pictures.

He said little, however, just stroked my left hand, which lay near his, and told me that maybe some day my dreams would come true. It's now very late, but I am writing a long letter to Jack to tell him just how unhappy he has made me by his silence, and all that. It's quite on the cards that the letter will never be mailed, for after all it may be foolish to let him think that I care whether he writes by every boat or not. But it does me good to get all my thoughts down on paper before me, somehow.

We leave Paris day after tomorrow, and Cecil leaves the day after that. I hope that seeing me helps him to get back to normal again, for there is no one that makes me feel so material as he does. I somehow or other feel that I should be near him, and keep, not one, but two eyes on him all the time—for his soul's sake.

Bribery Always a Sin.

Bribery is a sin. It is condemned in the laws of Moses: "And thou shalt take no gift; for a gift blindeth the wise and perverteth the words of the righteous." These words are as true today as when they were written.—Ray, Bernard Paley.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

EMIR FEISAL

If Emir Feisal, creator of the Arab army, largely responsible for the defeat of the Turks in Palestine, carries out his expressed intention of visiting the United States, Americans will see one of the most striking and picturesque personages brought to the front by the war.

Feisal, who has been called a "modern Saladin," is a descendant of the great Arab conquerors of the past. He is a man of thirty-three, with a long, dark beard and a pair of deep-set eyes.

During the past few months Feisal, under General Gouraud, has been making war against the very tribesmen who made it possible for General Allenby to capture Jerusalem. The provisional native government has been overthrown and the Arabs have been driven out of the territory which they fought to reclaim from the Turks for their own people.

The Emir Feisal is a man of thirty-three, the third surviving son of King Hussein of the Hejaz. He was born in Arabia, but left it when he was five years old, and spent the next thirteen years in Constantinople. He there received, like his brothers, an elaborate modern education, and when he came to manhood received official appointments and employment from the Turkish government. They took a leading part in the constitutional movement which led finally to the downfall of Abdul Hamid and in consequence the Emir of Mecca was restored, as an act of reparation, to King Hussein. The family then moved back to Mecca, where it has lived the last ten years.

BILLY WHISKER

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

It did not take Billy long to get well and on the third day he was trotting around the dock as unconcerned as if he had never had a tight in his life. His bandages were off and only a little red-rawed scar on his shoulder remained to show how bravely he had fought the tiger. Hans Zug never was through praising him, but nevertheless every time he went to speak to Billy he came toward him from behind, for Billy still had a way of staring his head at him that made Hans feel like clanking a ladder. On the first day that he could go around unbandaged, nobody seemed to be able to put Billy enough, but true to his name, Billy could not long stay out of mischief.

Soon thing of packing the long decks, he went below in the cook's galley and began to hunt for dainties. He had learned by this time that people were very curious about things to eat. When they saw a goat holding himself, something was almost sure to happen in the goat and he could not understand that everything belonged to somebody. All that he knew about it was that if you saw anything you wanted, and were lucky enough or strong enough or quick enough to get it, it was all right. Accordingly he watched the cook and when the cook's back was turned Billy grabbed a fine big bunch of celery and trotted off with it. When he got to a dark corner he ate it and it was so fine that he wanted more. He went back into the cook's galley, but could not see any. Then he went into a little dark room that opened into it and found himself in a place full of the oddest things to eat he had ever seen in one place. There were carrots and radishes and peas and fine crisp tender lettuce and all sorts of green stuff which had been brought aboard for the captain's table. Billy ate until he could hold no more and then he happened to think that his mother would like some of that nice celery, so he picked out an extra fine bunch and trotted off with it. No one saw him and he made his way down into the hold where his mother was.

One of the things in the world to eat. What you need now is a bunch of tender lettuce to finish off with, and I'll get you some," and he hurried off, leaving his mother very proud of his rise in the world.

Billy trotted jolly through the cook's galley, and the cook who knew all about Billy's fight, told him some smart tops as he passed. Billy was not at all hungry, but he ate the carrots just out of politeness, then he went into the store room and picked out a nice big head of lettuce for his mother. He was just going out of the cook's galley with it when the cook turned and saw him.

Billy takes care of the cook to-morrow.

"Why, friend," said the artilleryman from Battery A, "your outfit used to move so fast that we were always way ahead of the infantry and they had to send runners up to find us."

"Old stuff," sneered the man from Battery B. "We moved so fast that when we got into a new position the shells we had just fired made a haze so that our ammunition wagons couldn't get anywhere near us."

Reason Found at Last

The doctor was giving an informal talk on psychology. "Also," he remarked, "it has recently been found that the human body contains sulphur."

"Sulphur?" exclaimed the girl in the blue and white blazer. "And how much sulphur is there, then, in a girl's body?"

"Oh, the amount varies," said the doctor, smiling, "according to the girl."

"Ah!" remarked the girl. "That's why some of us make better matches than others."

Why the Sky Is Blue

When you refer to the blue sky, you really mean the blue rays in light, which is a compound of many colors. The blue of the sky is mainly due to particles floating in the air. These particles, which consist almost entirely of the gases which constitute the atmosphere itself, scatter and break up the blue rays in light, with the result that while the sky becomes azure, the sun looks yellow.

It's just about as so it's popular to be right. Speakin' o' Villa, we wouldn't surrender for a bottle o' meac.

SENATORIAL PROBERS WRANGLE

ED H. MOORE NETTLED AS WORD IS QUESTIONED

(BULLETIN)
CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—First evidence supporting Governor Cox's charge that large quotas were assigned to the principal cities by the Republican campaign fund committee was introduced in the senate committee investigation today when Dudley S. Blossom, who helped raise Cleveland's quota, testified Governor Cox's figures $100,000 for that city were correct.

Senator Reed called the witness's attention to the quota sheet submitted last week by Fred W. Upham, Republican national treasurer, which fixed the amount for the entire state of Ohio at $100,000.

CHICAGO, September 8.—The senate committee investigating presidential campaign expenditures, resumed its hearing today with E. H. Moore, Youngstown, personal representative of Governor Cox, again on the stand. Mr. Moore was the principal witness in yesterday's session.

The first session after nearly a week's adjournment of the committee, was marked by frequent clashes between witnesses and members of the committee as well as between the committee members themselves. Mr. Moore's testimony consisted largely of information he said he obtained from telegrams received from Democratic state chairmen in western states. These reports, he said, were intended merely as avenues of inquiry, and that "paid employees of the Republican national committee ought to be able to furnish the committee with facts."

100 RUSSIAN REFUGEE BOYS ESCAPE FROM FT. WADSWORTH

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Fifty of the 100 Russian refugee boys, who escaped yesterday from Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, were still at large early today. Red Cross officials, whose care the children are being returned to their homes in Russia—police, and civilians were making a search of the island for the fugitives.

The escape was believed by the police to have been aided by Bolshevik sympathizers, who, since the retention of the children here, are alleged to have spread propaganda among them against their being taken to Russia through France. Red Cross officials, however, believe that the escape was simply a boyish desire to see the sights of New York.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, September 8.—The hesitant tone of the stock market at the opening of today's session evidently expressed further division of sentiment among traders. Yesterday's late advance in the rate for call loans, probably served to check bullish operations. Excluding Crucible Steel which rose 1 3/4 points, gains and losses among leading shares, especially oil, motors, steels and rails, were limited to fractions. Foreign exchange was again unsettled, remittances to London falling below yesterday's minimum quotations.

ROME, September 8.—Several hundred persons lost their lives in the earthquake at Fivizzano, and many more were injured, according to a dispatch to the Tribune, from Massa.

PISSA, ITALY, September 8.—King Victor Emmanuel, with his suite, who came to this city immediately after the received news of the earthquake in this vicinity, went this morning to visit districts in Tuscany, which were affected by the shock.

ROME, Sept. 8.—Scores of lives are believed to have been lost in the district north of Florence, which was severely shaken by an earthquake yesterday morning. As reports from the stricken region come in over falling telegraph and telephone lines, the extent of the disaster seems to be growing and there is a possibility the damage done may be much more serious than was at first believed. The territory violently disturbed seems to be lossenge-shaped, with Florence at the southern apex and Modena at the northern end. It extends along the Etrurian coast and runs over the Apennines eastward for upwards of 100 miles. In this district there are many populous towns, and no billings have as yet been received from many of them. There is every indication that the shock was a severe one, and reports from cities in the earthquake zone show that buildings crumbled beneath the strain of the convulsion of the earth.

At Fivizzano, a town of 17,000 inhabitants near Carrara, almost every building was damaged and many were completely destroyed. Among the collapsed structures is the postoffice. In the ruins of which is the entire staff. Soliera, in the Province of Massa Maritima, and Monti, nearby, were partially destroyed. Livorno, Forni and Montignone are reported in ruins, while in Marina and Carrara many structures have collapsed. At Viareggio the church of St. Paul was destroyed and at Castel Franco Di Stolo the ceiling of a church was shattered. Panic prevails at Lucca as a result of the cataclysm and from Gariviana and Almuatone come reports of lives being lost. At Villa Franca, in Lunigiana, an entire family was buried in the ruins of their home, and the village of Vigetta was entirely destroyed. Serious damage was done in the Frignano district, where houses collapsed, and Sant'Andrea were badly damaged, but the number of victims has not been ascertained.

Air Mail Service To San Francisco

MINEOLA, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Transcontinental air mail service to San Francisco was officially inaugurated today when H. G. Tager, piloting an airplane specially equipped to carry 400 pounds of mail, started his westward flight at 6:30 o'clock. He carried in his cargo of mail, letters to the mayors of six cities along the route.

The airplane was scheduled to make its first stop at Cleveland. Other stations chosen were Chicago, Omaha, Neb.; Cheyenne, Wyo.; Salt Lake City; Reno, Nev.; and finally, San Francisco.

The trip is expected to be completed in three days, arriving at San Francisco 42 hours ahead of the time regularly required for mail trains. The flight mapped out is 2,651 miles in length. The establishment of the service places at the disposal of the United States military forces what is probably the greatest system of regularly maintained landing fields and facilities in the world, according to the postoffice department.

Mighty Crowd Sees Cardinals Beat The All Stars, 6-1

Baughman Held Rickey's Men To Seven Bingles, McHenry Given Hound

Before a crowd of 2000 fans the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the All Stars at Millbrook Park, Tuesday afternoon by the score of 6 to 1, which will no doubt herald to the world that the All Stars are all that is claimed for them—one of the best semi-pro teams in the entire country, and a club of which all Portsmouth can well feel proud. There was not a single fan in the entire crowd that imagined for a second that the All Stars would win the game. Fans here are of the intelligent brand and they knew the Cardinals were odds on favorites and that the All Stars would do well to make a single run, which they did, thanks to the fact that Shultz, always full of nerve and pep came across in the opening inning as a result of his solid shot to center, and an out and out error on the part of Pitcher North.

Manager Branch Rickey lived up to his every promise. He did not hippodrome the game, starting the contest with his regulars in their positions and giving the fans a sight of practically all his men in action. In all he used seventeen players and had three men in the box, North, Kirchner and Haines, the latter being one of the greatest right handers in the game. Manager Rickey faired most of the afternoon with friends in the grand stand, having turned the management of the team over to Sporting Editor Jack Gould of the St. Louis Globe, who was as happy as a kid with his first pair of red top boots. The Cardinals while having a most wholesome respect for Mr. Gould's literary attainments, paid little heed to his advice from the side lines, preferring to do the very opposite from "Manager" Gould's expressed orders. To round out a very happy afternoon for Mr. Gould he was allowed to play the last two innings in center and thus get his name in the box score. He had a perfect day because he had no chances.

Of course interest in the game settled on McHenry and Dillhoefer, former members of the local team of the Ohio State League and they carried themselves with glory. McHenry got the only extra base hit of the game, a triple to right center, which he tried hard to stretch into a homer. Dillhoefer, who Manager Rickey regards as one of the best catchers of the game caught a beautiful game, and secured a hit, mixing up two stolen bases just to let his Portsmouth admirers know that he had developed into a speed merchant.

McHenry was called to the plate in the first inning and presented with a thoroughbred fox hound pup—the presentation speech being made by Judge Blair. Mac stated after the game that nothing could have pleased him more than that pup. He will use him for scaring up rabbits and coons when he is a yearling.

"Doc" Baughman, who pitched for the All Stars was warmly congratulated upon his showing. He held the Cardinals, who are leading the National League in hitting, to seven bingles and with cleaner support would have allowed but two runs. Hornsby tried hard—but Baughman was too much for the boss slugger of the Heydler circuit. He got but one ball out of the infield—a fly which Blake easily captured.

Shultz was the demon slugger, gathering two hits, and leading both teams at the bat—hurry for Shultz. He grabbed off a hit—a bunt to the right of the box and Catcher Monk secured a single to center.

All in all the game was to the liking of the fans, and should the Cardinals ever arrange to make a return trip, the park will hardly hold the mass of humanity that will be out to see the game. The score:

THREE TITLES ARE SOUGHT BY LEWIS

Ted Lewis, back from his conquest of his home country, England, is as full of ambition as always. All Lewis wants to do during the approaching winter season is tackle Georges Carpentier, European heavy weight champion; Johnny Wilson, new middleweight king, and Jack Britton, who took the welterweight title from him. Why Lewis doesn't want to cut off a leg of two and meet Benny Leonard and Johnny King isn't known.

Dr. Lavan, of the Cardinals, has announced positively that he will retire from the game at the end of the season. He is a practicing surgeon, and feels that he must devote all of his time to that profession from now on. RUTH IN FEW SEASONS, THREATENS LIFELONG RECORDS OF FAMOUS BIG LEAGUE SLUGGERS OF BYGONE DAYS

Smashing season records of Ruth. The Big Mule is now—other star home run hitters has after practically only two seasons become commonplace with Babe, sons of circuit strutting—threatening the life-long records of the old-time demons of swat. The men who won fame as heavy hitters over a great span of years. Sam Thompson, slugging star in the National League from 1855 to 1893, holds the best record for the number of home runs slammed out during an entire career. He picked 120 in those thirteen seasons. Ruth, in 1919 and so far this season, has collected over seventy home runs. Since coming into the big show in 1914 he has made around ninety. At this rate he ought to surpass Thompson's record before the next campaign ends.

HAS PRAISE FOR ROUSH

"Give credit where credit is due. Eddie Roush of the Reds is the best all round outfielder in the National. I do not believe a ball has been hit over his head this year and he gets more of the line drives hit over second base than any other player in the big show today."

"This was McHenry's testimony to Roush's sparkling ability when he was gaged in a fanning bee here last night."

Sherwood Magee Released

Manager Clynner of the Columbus (National League) is about through. Senators has released unconditionally He has had his day and now he is out of the National League. He is a natural batsman and when he shakes off the hoodoo he will begin rattling the fences again with his long drives.

SAVE THE EAGLE
ONLY prompt federal action will save the American eagle from extermination by bounty hunters. More than eight thousand eagles have been slaughtered along the coastal region and river valleys of Alaska since the Alaskan bounty law went into operation on April 30, 1917. The law provides for the payment of 50 cents for each bald or "American" eagle killed.

In order to swell their gains, it is declared, bounty hunters are no longer limiting themselves to Alaskan territory but are reaching out into the British province adjoining Alaska in search of the rapidly disappearing eagle. It is even possible that this time more than one-half—perhaps more than three-fourths—of the entire species has been sacrificed and that within the next year or so there will be very few American eagles remaining alive with the exception of the scattered few to be seen, caged for life like malefactors, in the zoological parks.

The bald eagle never has been an abundant species. Estimates of its numbers are said to have been greatly exaggerated. Up to the year 1917 the only territory where the bald eagle thrived was along the coastal region and large river valleys of Alaska. Here the American eagle built its nest and multiplied exceedingly for a bird of its size. Advocates of the Alaskan bounty law declared that the American eagle was destructive and that its numbers must be kept down. The war of extermination followed and has been kept up ever since.

The general indifference to the fate of the great bird of splendid tradition is due, beyond doubt, to the common lack of information regarding its threatened extinction. The crusade for the bird's protection should enlist the enthusiasm and sincere effort of bird lovers and bird students throughout the country, of our scientific and patriotic societies and of the public press. It is only by the prompt passage of a federal law protecting the American eagle that our national bird can be saved from total extinction.

Nothing is so bad, but what it can be worse. Experts say the telephone service in foreign countries is worse than that in this land, which doesn't know when it is well off. And we read that just after we had spent one full half hour trying to get a call through to the country. And by the same token they say profanity is not justified under any circumstances.

We can't see that we need rain just because we have had plenty of it.

Cincinnati gets one million bushels of coal this week by river. That is a sight better than getting none at all by rail.

It is probably easier for a man to put his watch in "snak" than to do the same for himself.

If porch swings rest mother and help daughter to get married they're entirely justified in being.

No matter how tight a man may be with his money, he knows some others who are tighter than himself.

If the outfit board had any of the virtues claimed for it, men who bet on elections would discover them.

It would be a pretty good sort of world, after all, if it were not for folks who make all the trouble.

It makes a pedestrian angry when an automobile driver "thunks", and it makes him angry when he doesn't.

After a man's prejudice has been well fed up he likes to let it be known that he is open-minded on a matter.

What has become of the old-fashioned farmer who used to have his city relatives out for a week in their turn?

When the Russians get their eyeteeth out, Lenin and Trotsky will probably be looking for more fruitful fields.

One of the worst ingraters is the man who accepts the protection of a country without being willing to obey its laws.

Speech has been defined as a medium for concealing thought and some politicians are emphasizing the definition.

The transplanting of goat glands will never become popular if it causes the patient to butt into the business of other folks.

Many a rascal who waits on retribution to overtake him dies of old age.

The innocent bystander who gets hit may not be as innocent as he looks.

New-York - Day - By - Day
BY O. O. McINTYRE
NEW YORK, Aug. 8—
She came from the shadows.
Ghastly and haggard.
Her claw-like fingers.
Clutching with dread.
Then she looked about.
And loathed the human Niagara.
From sixty theatres.
And in the splash of light.
Her face was serene.
Her hair disheveled.
And her shoulders stooped.
She walked back and forth.
Forth and back and past.
Scanning a sea of faces.
Faces that were flushed.
Happy and buoyant.
And she was ready always.
To bestow the froggie smirk.
But Sultan and satrap.
Prince and pauper.
Turned away with shudders.
And women whose throats.
Blazed with jewelled stars.
Like the Milky Way.
Drew their skirts away.
With instinctive disgust.
As she lurched by.
And she passed one man.
Who gave her a quick glance.
Then dashed a silver badge.
And she cringed like the dog.
In fear of the lash.
And darted across the way.
And was gone.
And as I walked home.
Content with the world.
I wondered why it was.
That in that vast throng.
Wine of a hundred races.
Romance of a thousand tribes.
There was not one.
Including myself.
Who held out a hand.
Or gave a word of hope.
To this bit of driftwood.
Tossed up by mad currents.
Over which perils.
She had no control.
And yet any one of us.
Might have been as she.
And what the world needs.
Is less convention.
And more humanity.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

CECIL REVEALS HIS PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

Cecil and I had the best sort of a time all evening. We got on famously, and I guess we both had been feeling dead lonely or something and had met at the physiological moment. Anyhow, we just laughed and enjoyed every moment of the time together. I declare I never found out before how nice he is. Seems funny, too, for he lived with us for quite a while, and I saw him three times a day at least at meal times. But of course I was always busy in New York, and that's why I suppose.

After a good dinner at our friendly little restaurant, we went to see "The Sign of the Cross" which is playing at the Gaiety theatre. We enjoyed every minute of that, too. The music was delightful and we were happy, so I took it all in. I'm glad that I ran into my dark-eyed cousin here in London. There can't be a bit of harm in seeing him, after all, for he's evidently forgotten that he ever lost his head about yours truly!

After the theatre we walked home and sat down in one of the parks to enjoy the moonlight for a few moments, and again my cousin, never so good looking or dear, behaved in any way that he should. Surely he has changed mightily. Once, just once, I caught his black eyes contorting me, and I turned away quickly lest he think that I was encouraging him to "well" to remember.

He told me some of his plans for the future, and they are really interesting. When he leaves Paris he will sail for America, stop off a few days in New York to say hello to my dear old dad, and then his delight for the land of the sunsets for his. Yes, Cecil has decided to go out to California and try his luck. Says he wants to see and maybe settle in the Santa Clara Valley—where all the insouciant fruit comes from. Hey him a fruit ranch and just back in the sunlight and raise peaches and things. Back to nature for his. Says it agrees with him the best, and that a human being gets most out of such a life. The city bewilder and bristles one only. Now isn't he some bean to think this all out so well? And he on the verge of ruin and self-destruction only yesterday.

I squeezed his hand in approval, I did, when he had finished outlining his future, and he caught mine and raised it to his lips. But that was quite all right, and he told me that my approval meant a lot to him.

I told him that I quite enjoyed him going out to live in California, and his eyes sparkled as I described how I, too, had always longed to go there, and just back in the sunlight, and paint wonderful pictures.

He said little, however, just stroked my left hand, which lay near his, and told me that magic, some day my dreams would come true.

It's now very late, but I am writing a long letter to Jack to tell him just how unhappy he has made me by his silence, and all that. It's quite on the cards that the letter will never be mailed, for after all it may be foolish to let him think that I care whether he writes by every boat or not. But it does me good to get all my thoughts down on paper before me, somehow.

We leave Paris this day after tomorrow, and Cecil leaves the day after that. I hope that feeling me helps him to get back to normal again, for there is no one that makes me feel so material as he does. I somehow or other feel that I should be near him, and keep, not one, but two eyes on him all the time—for his soul's sake.

Bribery Always a Sin.
Bribery is a sin. It is condemned in the laws of Moses: "And thou shalt take no gift: for a gift blindeth the wise and perverteth the words of the righteous." These words are as true today as when they were written.—Rev. Bernard Paloe.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News
EMIR FEISAL
If Emir Feisal, creator of the Arab army, largely responsible for the defeat of the Turks in Palestine, carries out his expressed intention of visiting the United States, Americans will see one of the most striking and picturesque personages brought to the front by the war.
Feisal who has been called a modern Saladin, a compelling marvel in unifying the scattered tribes of Arabia and concentrating their energies against the Turks. He did so on the under-stand that Great Britain would co-operate with him in establishing the Arabian Kingdom after the war. But his plan has now been upset by France which has schemes of her own for Syria, and thus another allied promise of self-determination has been broken.
During the past few months French troops under General Gouraud have been making war against the very tribesmen who made it possible for General Allenby to conquer Jerusalem. The provisional native government has been overruled and the Arabs have been driven out of the territory which they fought to reclaim from the Turks for their own people.
The Emir Feisal is a man of thirty-three, the third surviving son of King Hussein of the Hedjaz. He was born in Arabia, but left it when ten years old, and spent the next thirteen years in Constantinople. He there received, like his brothers, an elaborate modern education, and when he came to London received official appointments and employment from the Turkish government. They took a leading part in the constitutional movement which led finally to the downfall of Abdul Hamid and in consequence the Emir of Mecca was restored, as an act of reparation, to King Hussein. The family then moved back to Mecca, where he has lived the last ten years.
Mayor Starving Himself to Death
Lord Mayor of Cork
According to recent dispatches, Terence MacSwiney, the Lord Mayor of Cork who is starving himself to death in a British prison, is sinking rapidly. He believes he will win the Irish cause by making a martyr of himself.
Influence of Weather.
"Under the weather" is founded on fact. Epidemics are caused by atmospheric influences, affecting those who lack resistance, through wrong living. And atmospheric conditions depend upon the sun.
Usual Reason
"Gone in for politics, have you? Want to see what good you can do to the country?"
"Bless you, no! Want to see what good the country can do me!"—Sydney Bulletin.
But Not So
"You can't always judge persons by their names."
"Indeed?"
"For instance, one would think from the name that a grass widow was green!"—Lexington Leader.
Real Grief
Earnest Reformer—"When I pictured the denizens of a sordid attic, surrounded by empty bottles, my anguish was moved to tears."
Flippant Miss—"I can quite believe it. It's touching to think of the emptiness of those bottles!"—London Mail.
Matter of Education
Willie B. Doughboy—"Papa, what is the difference between a coo and an ordinary hog?"
N. Doughboy—"A coo, my son, is one who has had military training, while a hog is merely a Home Guard."
Cutting Converse
Slick—"I've gotta have my tonsils removed."
Slick—"Well, any one of these here tonsorial parlors ought to do the trick."
One On Teacher
Teacher, to little boy—"What is your name, dear?"
Little Boy—"Jule, teacher."
Teacher—"Don't say 'Jule'; you should say 'Julius'."
Then to the next boy—"And what is your name?"
Second Little Boy—"Billious, teacher!"—New Commonwealth.

More War-Made Millionaires
Blags—The Kaiser hasn't a friend on earth.
Baggs—Suppose not, but the Map Makers' Association have hung his picture in their ante-room.

The Speed Boys
"Wig, listen," said the artillerist from Battery A. "Our outfit used to move so fast that we were always way ahead of the infantry and they had to wait centuries up to find us."
"Old stuff," sneered the man from Battery B. "We moved so fast that when we got into a new position the shells we had just fired made a target for that one ammunition wagon couldn't get anywhere near us."

Reason Found at Last
The doctor was giving an informal talk on phylology. "Also," he remarked, "It has recently been found that the human body contains sulphur."
"Sulphur?" exclaimed the girl in the blue and white braid. "And how much sulphur is there, then, in a girl's body?"
"Oh, the amount varies," said the doctor, smiling. "According to the girl."
"Ah!" remarked the girl, "that's why some of us make better matches than others."

All Taken Back To The Store
"Madam, I have come to take the census."
"Indeed and you'll take nothing. I haven't a single piece of installment plan furniture in the house."

The Reformer
"Casterly has recently done well, hasn't he?"
"I fancy so. He has had both his car and his wife done over."

Why the Sky is Blue
When you refer to the blue sky, you really mean the blue rays in light, which is a compound of many colors. The blue of the sky is mainly due to particles floating in the air. These particles, which consist almost entirely of the gases which constitute the atmosphere itself, scatter and break up the blue rays in light, with the result that while the sky becomes azure, the sun looks yellow.

BILLY WHISKER
BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY
It did not take Billy long to get well crowded in the pen with the other and on the third day he was trotting around the dock as unconcerned as if he had never had a fight in his life. His bandages were off and only a little, red-edged scar on his shoulder remained to show how bravely he had fought the tiger. Hans Zug never was through praising him, but nevertheless every time he went to speak to Billy he came toward him from behind, for Billy still had a way of shaking his head at him that made Hans feel like climbing a ladder. On the first day that he could go around unattended, nobody seemed to be able to get Billy enough, but true to his name, Billy could not long stay out of mischief.
Soon things of packing the long docks, he went below in the cook's galley and began to hunt for dainties. He had learned by this time that people were very curious about things to eat. When they saw a goat helping himself, something was almost sure to happen to the goat and he could not understand that everything belonged to somebody. All that he knew about it was that if you saw anything you wanted, and were lucky enough or strong enough or quick enough to get it, it was all right. Accordingly he watched the cook and when the cook's back was turned Billy grabbed a fine big bunch of celery and trotted off with it. When he got in a dark corner he ate it and it was so fine that he wanted more. He went back into the cook's galley, but could not see any. Then he went into a little dark room that opened into it and found himself in a place full of the most dainties he had ever seen in one pile. There were carrots and cabbages and peas and fine crisp tender lettuce and all sorts of green stuff which had been brought aboard for the captain's table. Billy ate until he could hold no more and then he happened to think that his mother would like some of that nice celery, so he picked out an extra fine bunch and trotted off with it. No one saw him and he made his way down into the hold where his mother was.

Alaska a Good Investment
Alaska has more than paid for itself with its gold. Its fisheries have produced more than its cost. Its seal are worth many times its purchase price. So are its forests. Its coal fields are of incalculable richness. Its deposits of tin are worth no one knows how much. There are fortunes in its reindeer herds. Its farm products represent not the least of its annual accretion of wealth. It is a tourist's Mecca and a sportsman's paradise. The United States never made a better investment.

The Zuyder Zee
Large as is the Zuyder Zee, it is a comparatively modern feature in the scenery of Holland. It is said to have been formed toward the end of the thirteenth century, after a great storm when the sea swept inland through the isthmus, thus connecting Friesland with northern Holland, and converted the Fleva lake into a sheet of salt water.

OBITUARY

Funeral of Mrs. Charles E. Pray

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Charles E. Pray will be held at the home, 1830 Hutchins street, Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

She passed away at noon Tuesday, after two weeks' illness, following a year of ill-health. News of her death brought to the minds of the many people who were associated with her in her home life and church work, a feeling of great loss. Mrs. Pray from earliest girlhood, had been one of the women of the Methodist Episcopal church of Portsmouth whose cheerful service in good work had carried it forward through successful years. Her life outside her home had been dedicated to church work, where she was familiar to all, quietly and efficiently doing her share in every activity. In this phase of her life she seemed to represent the whole-hearted pioneer work of her generation in this city which is to this day held up as an example of excellent work.

Mrs. Pray was born in Portsmouth on August 24, 1851, a child of Stephen W. and Alvira Rogers Norris. A few years of her girlhood was spent in Jackson, O. She was married February 20, 1873, to the late Charles E. Pray. Their happy married life was blessed with the following children: Nettie, Alice and Ruth, at home; Mrs. Bertha Brunell, of Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Wells Crawford, 2002 Baird avenue, and Charles, who is located in South America. The following grandchildren survive: William, Edwin and Wells Crawford, Jr., and Virginia Pray. A sister, Mrs. Effie Watkins, of Melford, Oregon, and a brother, Walter Norris, of this city, also survive.

Her affiliation with the church had led her through many interesting experiences. She had been a member of the old Spencer Chapel and had taken part in the heart-stirring march from the old church into Sixth street, which was then new and commodious. She had watched and worked for the growth of all church societies and taught a Sunday school class for a long number of years.

Her loss will be severely felt in all these circles as well as in her home circle, where she endeared herself by thoughtfulness and kindness.

"Bigger" Not in Hebrew

One of the proverbs of the old Jews was, "Whoever brings up a child without a trade brings him up to steal." However, a family was in social position. It was the habit of the Jews to teach every boy to know a trade, as he might be the day when it would be necessary for him to labor with his hands. It was sought to give every man the capacity to take care of himself, so that there should be no poor people in the land. So successfully was this policy carried out that it has been said that the word "beggar" does not exist in the Hebrew tongue. Here, that, Ireland, "Beggars, Italy" and all this sort of thing, from the application of the people's money to the education of the people.—Henry Ward Beecher.
